Last weekend (January 30, 2015) we drove down to Paso Robles to take part in the Super Fun Run, which benefited the Boys' and Girls' Club of North San Luis Obispo County.

Paso Robles is only about 3 hours from home, so it was a pleasant little drive, away from the Bay Area traffic. The race was “small town” and lots of fun, with a an out-and-back course up the down the local hills, and a spectacular finish around the local junior high school stadium. We both got first-place medals in our age group, which were decorated with little footballs in honor of the 49th Super Bowl the next day.

Besides the race we did some local sightseeing and hiking in Paso Robles, Cambria (along the beach), and San Luis Obispo. We even watched the Super Bowl (good game!). It was a nice little getaway.
