RACE AGAINST PH 2015

NOVEMBER 1, 2015 | ANNA

On Sunday, November 1, 2015, Dick and I ran the 5K Race Against PH at Stanford (an annual event, and one of our favorites). It was a beautiful morning, warm and a little breezy. Dick came in second in his age group and I was third.

We were, as always, inspired to be running with a spirited member of our cohort, Joe, who at age 88 tells us is still doing about 50 races a year. He claims he plans to “retire” from racing at age 90, but we don’t believe it!
