MARCH FOR OUR LIVES, MORGAN HILL, CALIFORNIA

MARCH 24, 2018 | ANNA | LEAVE A COMMENT

This morning (March 24, 2018) Dick and I participated in the March for Our Lives (#marchforourlives) event to protest the lack of meaningful action to help prevent future deaths from gun violence by civilians.

Our closest event was in Morgan Hill, so we drove south to the Morgan Hill Community Center. We marched through the downtown area.

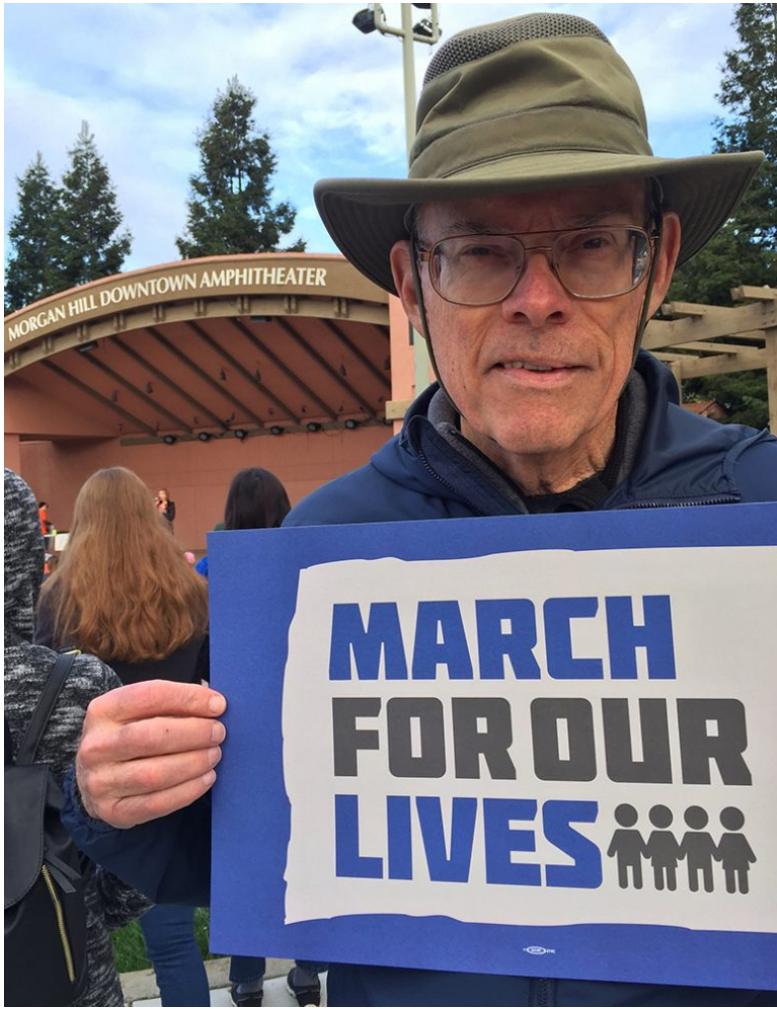

We were pleased to see the large number of people who participated, and we were glad to be able to add our voices to a call for immediate and effective action by the people we have elected to create and enforce laws that will keep us, our children, and grandchildren safe, and to maintain a peaceful, strong, and civil society.
