OUR ICONIC LIFE: HALLOWEEN 2019

OCTOBER 21, 2019 | ANNA

Our iconic life

We believe in the value of an uncluttered life, and over a number of years have whittled down our belongings so that we fit into a < 1000 square foot apartment and no garage. That means being satisfied with minimalist holiday displays consisting of tiny knick-knacks and other decorations. Above are our Halloween items, sharing space with our equally minimalist plants. Ah, the simple life!

This year we thought we'd maybe expand by one more glass pumpkin, so we stopped by an event at a park in Palo Alto. The prices stopped us in our tracks (see below), and we settled for a few pictures instead.

We saw a number of young kids at this event with one like this in EACH HAND
