THE BONNIE WAY TRAIL CAMERA

JUNE 29, 2023 | DICK

In May we received a trail camera as a gift from the Blomquists. It is a GardePro E6. The camera takes color pictures in daylight and infrared pictures at night, and it has a motion sensor that turns the camera recording on when movement is detected.

I have been setting the camera up behind our house on Bonnie Way to see what animals are out there, particularly those that come out of the creek bed at night.

Here is a nighttime video I captured showing a deer family: a momma deer and her two fawns:

When you watch the video you will see some flying creatures zooming past the camera. I think those are bats.

Other wildlife caught on the camera include:

- Gray Fox (we have seen him/her during the day as well)

- Skunk
- Squirrels
- Rabbit

Below are still pictures of some of them:
